

"LET US MAY OUR LAND BE BRIGHT PROTECT US BY THY MIGHT"

T WITH FREEDOM'S HOLY LIGHT!
T, GREAT GOD, OUR KING!"

"O Freedom! if to me belong
Nor mighty Milton's gift divine
Nor Marvell's wit and graceful song,
Still with a love as deep and strong
As theirs, I lay, like them, my best gifts on thy shrine!"

THE FUTURE SECURITY OF FREEDOM IS OUR RESPONSIBILITY

Through conscientious training for worthy leadership, through education for character, knowledge, and a well-rounded intelligence, through the inculcation of democratic ideals in everyday experiences, we shall be able to fortify the great freedoms that are our most priceless possessions.

Thus only shall we be able to keep faith with every young man of Edmunds High School who so gloriously laid down his life for freedom in World War II.

If ever the world needed men trained for worthy leadership, it needs them now, and it will need them tomorrow. The schools are the workshops where such training has its beginning.

Under careful guidance the youth of America must keep an open mind, find out what is happening, and understand issues. They must learn to think clearly and to express their thoughts fearlessly. They must learn self-reliance through certainty of knowledge and initiative through faith in the cause of right.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

If the future security of freedom rests with us, the training for such responsibility rests, in turn, indirectly with the board of education; for it is the chief concern of the board to employ a faculty well equipped to give unerring guidance and true instruction.

In this way the board of education builds tomorrow's Sumter.

Our board is composed of seven members from the city and three from the county. Those from the city are Dr. C. J. Lemmon, Chairman; Mr. E. C. Dunn; Mrs. W. A. McElveen; Mr. F. M. Moise; Mr. H. G. Osteen; Mr. S. L. Roddey; Mr. Earle Rowland. Those from the county are Mr. George L. Mabry; Mr. Marion Myers; Mr. H. D. Shuler.

These ten outstanding citizens of our city and county represent a cross section of our business and vocational community, and therefore they are well able to serve all of the people.

Under the able administration of Mr. Crow, Edmunds High School has carried through to a highly successful conclusion her first program of work under the new twelve-year system. The advantages of such a system have been clearly proved, and to Mr. Crow belongs much of the credit for the understanding and cooperation of the community and for the high quality of success obtained by the Class of '48.

COVINGTON PARHAM
President of the Student Body

For two years "Poss" has filled the highest position which the school offers to any boy or girl, the position of president of the student body, and no greater praise can be given to him than the statement of the fact that he remains as high in the hearts of the students today as he was two years ago when he was first elected. His character, leadership, scholarship, and athletics combined to make him a power for good in Edmunds High.

Another year "Poss" will be gone, but his influence will persist.

Through the operation of a school supply room in the cafeteria and the handling of all concessions at athletic games the council makes its money. This year, besides the cabinet and the homeroom gifts, the council was able to purchase a movie screen and light-proof curtains for the little theater, to make a loan of $150 to the F. F. A. Club, and to add $200 to the Memorial Scholarship Fund.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The small student council is composed of the student body officers, the class officers, and the committee chairmen. Their duties are executive. They meet twice a month, and a faculty adviser always meets with them. The large student council is composed of the small council and the homeroom presidents. This group also has two regular meetings each month, the purpose of which is to reach, through their presidents, all homerooms in the school, informing the homerooms what the council is doing and conveying to the council the wishes of the homerooms.

Perhaps the best thing that the student council did in the past two years was to propose a kind of honor system. The proposal was discussed by the school in a series of student body meetings, and it was finally agreed to give it a trial, which has proved to be quite a success. It is a system of individual responsibility for order in the halls, in the cafeteria, at athletic events, and at school assemblies. It is forming habits of thoughtfulness, courtesy, and reverence throughout the school.

MATHEMATICS

Mathematics is second only to science itself, of which it is really a part, in its importance as a high school subject today. Upon these subjects rests to no little extent the future security of our freedoms.

School Life

Science cannot receive too much attention in the high school if we are to "safeguard the future of our nation." The study of chemistry and physics in high school may lead to intensive research work in college and university; it may pave the way for scientific progress that will save the freedom of the world.

SCIENCE

BUSINESS

Business courses in high school are popular not only with boys and girls who intend to go to work immediately after receiving their diplomas, but also with many who intend to go to college. General office practice is one of the most valuable parts of the course.

Vocations, an important part of the high school curriculum, attract more and more students every year. Many of the boys and girls become quite skillful in their chosen work. Some even realize a nice profit from the work done while they are learning to do it. All of these vocations are significant factors for economic freedom.

Agriculture. Left to right: Jimmy Driggers, Clinton Ford, Claude Pritchard, Arthur Southall (talking to the others about a magazine article on which they were to make a report).

VOCATIONS

ART AND HOME ECONOMICS

Art is a subject that affects directly or indirectly every student in Edmunds High School. The art department makes school posters; it decorates for school entertainments; it sets the stage for plays and assembly programs. Its exhibits are always inspiring. Home Economics is very helpful to girls who choose this course. They learn sewing, cooking, buying and budgeting, interior decoration, what to wear, etiquette for all occasions.

School Life

Social Studies teach students causes and effects in history and a clearer understanding of the world today. They are fundamental in an America that is to remain a leader in world affairs.

DIVERSIFIED OCCUPATIONS (Boys)

WORK EXPERIENCES

The diversified occupations program is a type of part time education for girls and boys. The students are required to work at least twenty hours each week. The program is a cooperative one between the school and the employers in the community.

It operates as follows: Students in the last two years of high school, who have reached the age of sixteen and have good character and work habits, are allowed to work in "business establishments, industries, and trades of the community and to receive school credit for their work."

The practical experience is secured on a real job. The school gives related instruction to the students participating in the program, "specifically in the trade or occupation in which each is working."

The school gives one unit of credit for the work experience and one unit for the related instruction.

Other courses in the school must be taken to complete the requirements for graduation.

A majority of the social affairs for the teen-agers, including square dances and after-the-football-games gatherings at the canteen, "coke" and ice cream parties at school, and a number of the senior parties, are informal.

Informal square dances are held at the canteen the first Saturday night in every month. "Coke" and ice cream parties are popular in the various homerooms. Often these are rewards for outstanding interest and effort in school activities.

Among the formal affairs at school the Junior-Senior stands out as the one which no girl or boy will ever forget. For weeks beforehand the juniors keep the big secret of the entertainment program from prying seniors. Dates are made. New frocks and new suits are bought. And after aeons of waiting the time arrives. Better than one's dreams! That's Junior-Senior!

BIG MOMENTS

THE CROWNING EVENT OF THE YEAR

THE IRIS QUEEN!

In May, when the iris gardens are in bloom, Edmunds High School holds an iris festival. It is a beautiful event! Many lovely girls take part!

One is chosen queen!

If America is to make her own freedom secure and remain a power for the freedom of the world, it will have to be through an educated citizenry.

Education for knowledge is, of course, fundamental, but it is not all. There must be education for intelligence, with which to meet problems and crises and win friends for the right. There must be education for character, the basis of which is religion, but which comprises besides religion a vision and a purpose and the stability to hold to that purpose come what may.

SENIORS

EDUCATION

RICHARD DWIGHT
President of the Senior Class

Three times in high school Richard was elected a class officer, which goes to show that he assumed responsibilities and got results. This year, as president, he had the distinction of leading his class successfully through the first twelfth grade.

Besides being president of the senior class, Richard belonged to the student council, he was on the business staff of the annual, and he excelled in all major sports in the school, serving as a captain of the 1947 football squad.

Outside of school he was a member of the Hi-Y Club for the past three years.

THE OFFICERS OF THE SENIOR CLASS

With Pearl, Lad, George, and Richard at the head of it, the senior class achieved all of the goals customarily set for graduating classes, such as the annual, a senior play, an iris festival and . . . sixteen units.

Theirs being the twelfth grade to begin all twelfth grades, the boys and girls of the senior class walked circumspectly at all times, so much so that they won for themselves a new privilege, the privilege of going to lunch a few minutes earlier than the rest of the school and therefore of having first place in lunch line.

But life for the seniors was not all routine work and play that was mapped out for them. In a solemn mood, these seemingly carefree young people chose as the theme for their annual The Future Security of Our Freedoms, and out of grateful hearts that freedom still is ours, they decided to make a gift to their school of a bronze memorial plaque honoring those boys of Edmunds High School who "dared to die that freedom might live."

This is our senior class.

THANKSGIVING (BOTTOM PICTURE)

Homeroom 206 took as their special project this year Thanksgiving and Christmas offerings for the poor of the city and the community. The students all brought gifts, which consisted principally of food and clothing, though books and toys were added to the Christmas collection, and money contributions came in fine for miscellaneous needs of individual families.

Other officers of the homeroom were J. J. Waters, High News Representative; Martha White, Red Cross Representative; Bill Baldwin, Magazine Captain.

There is nothing finer in the school than the work of the Junior Red Cross. This was the special project of homeroom 109 this year. It was a work of love for humanity. For example, scores of European children, wretched and hopeless, found bright packages at Christmas time, sent to them by the Junior Red Cross. These packages contained handkerchiefs, toothbrushes, combs, hair clamps, paper, crayons, and other simple gifts. Best of all they contained Christmas cheer for children.

Those in the picture are, first row, left to right: Martha White (seated left of table), Margaret Hodge and Anna Lou Polk (on floor), Eleanor Poulos (seated right of table). Back row: Reginald Goodman and Mildred Foxworth (seated back of table), Carolyn Mims and J. J. Waters (mounting display).

INTERNATIONAL UNDERSTANDING AND GOOD WILL

The members of homeroom 106 this year had the good fortune to be closely associated with Miss Norah Heery, exchange teacher from Buxton, England, as their homeroom teacher. In informal talks as well as in class work, through the study of English literature and the English language, by means of recordings and of moving pictures showing English life, and in various other ways these students somehow came closer to England under Miss Heery's guidance, appreciated England's great history, understood her youth of today.

The above picture shows Miss Heery talking with a group of her seniors. The seniors are, front row, left to right: Evelyn Hudson, Rosetta King, Doris Newman, Eleanor Curtis, Dorothy Hatfield. Second row, left to right: Anne Spratt, Eleanor Bridgman, Billy Herring, Lonzo Elliott. Third row, left to right: Nick Millard, Kirby Jackson, John Atkinson.

HEALTH AND GENERAL WELFARE

Realizing the basic importance of health to the general welfare of our country, the students of homeroom 116 this year made a special point of supporting the health campaigns to which the schools were called upon to contribute. Among these there were the Christmas Seals campaign for the cure and prevention of tuberculosis, the March of Dimes for the treatment of infantile paralysis cases, and the Sale of Easter Seals for the benefit of crippled children. Homeroom 116 led the school in the campaign for the cure and prevention of tuberculosis, with the purchase by the students of 2,000 seals.

The students shown in the picture each bought 100 or more Christmas seals. They are, standing, on the left: James Beaty (almost out of the picture), Jack Jones, Dow Player, Joe Heriot, Jackie Fulmer. Seated, on the left: Gwenelle Johnson, Catherine D'Ambra. Seated, on the right: Betty Owens (selling seals). Standing, on the right: Gerald Thweatt and Bobby Saffold (buying seals).

WE WERE THE FIRST, and now, all who follow us will "strike twelve" every time!

It happened to us four years ago—the blow. Our school went unquestionably and unalterably under the twelve-year system!

At that time we were just graduating from junior high school, and we had pictured Edmunds High as a sort of miracle that would enable us to realize all of our young dreams. Now, at the thought of an added year in high school, there came another picture, June 1, 1948, a kind of nightmare that mocked our old age as we hobbled across the stage, at last, to receive our diplomas.

That was four years ago.

June 1, 1948, came, and still "our hearts were young and gay."

We were proud to be the first twelfth grade graduates. The more difficult work had been more readily and clearly understood because the mind was more mature. The average student had done more thorough and self-satisfying work because it was unhurried by the press of time. All had gained a maturer outlook on life and an added self-confidence so necessary in business to those who were finishing school and so important in college to those who would be called upon to keep pace with other twelfth grade graduates, from all over the country, as each worked away in his chosen field.

"FREEDOM OF EDUCATION"

If the youth of America are to become the bulwark of her freedoms, all school activities should implant democratic ideals and provide democratic experiences in the lives of the students.

The more activities offered by a school, the better the chance to reach every individual through his own particular need, and the better the opportunity for leaders to become steeped in the American way of living through participation in more than one. A busy activity period, and happy, is a healthy sign for our future freedoms.

MITTS AND BATS 1947

The 1947 baseball Gamecocks had a most successful season although they did not successfully defend their 1946 title as AA State Champions.

The team, under the able tutelage of Coach H. N. Hutchinson, swept to nine victories against three defeats, winning over Hartsville, Darlington, Dreher and Bishopville twice each and over Columbia once, and losing once to Columbia and twice to the powerful North Charleston Blue Devils, who later swept to the AA State Championship by going undefeated throughout the entire season.

The starting lineup usually consisted of Captain Bruce Reynolds behind the plate, Richard Dwight or Jimmie Robinson at first, "Pedro" Martin at the keystone position, Alfred Murrell at the hot corner and Ellis Beard at short. In the outfield there were Kirby Jackson in right, big Jack Brunson in center and "Poss" Parham in left.

Sumter's able pitching staff was led by little Junior Southall, the Gamecocks' curve-ball artist. He was assisted in his chores by Wiley Lowder, "Spec" Brown, and left-hander Claude Pritchard, who was lost midway of the season due to an injury.

When this write-up went to press, things were looking good for Coaches Larry Weldon and "Hutch" Hutchinson, as all but three men from last year's team were back and several promising rookies were on hand to fill these vacancies.

Richard Dwight, at the end position, gave stellar performance in every game, with his uncanny pass snagging, his fine defensive play, and his cool head. D-wight was always there one hundred per cent.

These two boys in close cooperation led the 1947 Gamecocks through a highly successful season.

After weeks of hard practice the Sumter Gamecocks opened their 1947 football season with a bang, by defeating the Lake City Auctioneers in a thrilling and hard-fought contest at the Fairgrounds Stadium, by the tune of 26 to 0.

The Gamecocks' dazzling "T" Formation plays and passing attack were too much for the Tobacco Town boys, with "Poss" Parham and Jack Chandler connecting up time after time with Kirby Jackson and Richard Dwight for long gains. Bill Baldwin did most of the line cracking behind the fighting Sumter linemen, Murrell, Baker, Saffold, Shuler, Rivers, Martin, Herring, Doug Brunson, and Robert Brunson.

Next came the Gamecocks' heartbreaking defeat at the hands of their long but friendly rivals, the Camden Bulldogs, by the slim margin of 6 to 0.

The teams had fought on an even basis throughout the entire contest until the opening minutes of the fourth quarter, when Gene Barmer, Camden's All-State halfback, took the ball on a triple reverse and raced thirty-seven yards for the only score of the game.

The lines of both teams deserve much credit for their play in this game, and they added greatly to the assets accumulated by both clubs during the fracas.

Bottom picture. Kirby Jackson scores against Charleston on a fast 40-yard run. Three unidentified Charleston players are behind him.

Hutchinson took their boys into the upstate, only to return defeated by the Gaffney High Cherokees 20 to 13.

Sumter scored in the first and third quarters with Garrison going through the line for the first, and Dwight snaring an aerial for the second. Chandler added the conversion.

Gaffney tallied in the second and fourth quarters due largely to the work of their flashy back, A. L. Curtis, and gigantic tackle, Harold Pridmore, who besides playing a good game in the line, added his team's conversions.

The following week the Gamecocks bounced back into the win column when they journeyed to Darlington to defeat the scrappy Blue Devils 25 to 13 before a small crowd of rain-drenched spectators.

Co-Captain Bill Baldwin scored two of the Gamecock tallies and Jackson and Dwight each had one to his credit. Jack Chandler's kicking was one of the high lights of the game, as was the running of Stokes and Dennis of Darlington.

The following week the terrible hammer of fate struck another decisive blow against the Gamecocks by letting them go down again in defeat at the hands of the undefeated Greenwood Emeralds 21 to 7.

Kirby Jackson accounted for Sumter's only touchdown on a screen pass. Jack Chandler was good for the extra point.

Sonny Horton, Hootie Johnson, and Cook were the tally makers for the Emeralds, with each scoring on spectacular plays.

The following week the Gamecocks, with the aid of a new spirit of determination, again returned to the win column by defeating the Charleston Bantams 20 to 7 before a small crowd of loyal fans.

Moscoe Johnson, Jack Chandler, and Kirby Jackson behind the fighting Sumter linemen scored for the Gamecocks, with Chandler also adding two extra points.

Charleston, with the aid of penalties and one long run scored in the fourth quarter.

The next game was the high light of the entire season, when the Gamecocks defeated the defending state champions, the Rock Hill Bearcats, 14 to 13, in Rock Hill.

Both Gamecock tallies came in the first half, due to their now-feared passing attack, with Jack Chandler doing most of the tossing. The first score came midway of the first quarter when Bud Rivers recovered a Bearcat fumble on the 50, and Chandler shoved a screen pass to Jackson, who raced to the promised land and six points behind good interference. The all important extra point was added by Jack Chandler.

At the opening of the second quarter the Gamecocks found opportunity waiting for them again and seized it after a host of Sumter line-men led by Baker, Saffold, Rivers, and Brunson broke through and recovered another Cat fumble. After several plays failed, Jack Chandler tossed an aerial into the waiting arms of Co-Captain Richard Dwight in the end zone for six points. Then the play that spelled victory for the Gamecocks came when Chandler kicked the extra point.

Rock Hill did not score in the first half but began to go to work in the two remaining quarters, with their first score coming in the third quarter after it had been set up by several long runs by Neely, Dickerson and Jackson and a pass interception. Dickerson accounted for the score, but the extra point failed.

The final Bearcat score came in the last quarter, when Dickerson passed to Gettys of Rock Hill in the end zone. Dickerson also added the extra point on a line buck.

Then came the worst defeat of the season for the Gamecocks, when the powerful North Charleston Blue Devils came to town and trampled the Gamecocks by the large score of 34 to 0.

The Devils continued their victorious march after leaving Sumter and went undefeated for the entire season. They were later declared champions of the two Carolinas and Georgia.

The next week the Gamecocks got back into the win column to stay, when they defeated the Orangeburg High Indians in a battle of "T" Formations, 28 to 0, in Orangeburg.

Bill Baldwin accounted for two of the Gamecock touchdowns, and Kirby Jackson and Moscoe Johnson each had one to his credit. Jack Chandler, despite the wet condition of the playing field, made all four conversions, with the help of the Sumter line, which was now playing as they had been expected to play for the entire season.

The Gamecocks returned home the following week and tasted victory again when they defeated the Anderson High eleven 19 to 0 before a fairly large sized crowd at the local stadium.

Then the following Wednesday, which was Thanksgiving Eve, came the long-awaited battle of arch rivals when the Florence Yellow Jackets came to town, only to return to the Pee Dee city with another defeat, of 20 to 0, making it 18 years in a row that the Florentines have failed to emerge victorious from a contest with Sumter.

The line play of both teams was outstanding, but the Gamecock forwards showed superiority throughout. This fact along with the famous Gamecock aerial attack were the main factors in the victory.

Baldwin, Jackson, and Chandler were the TD-makers for Sumter with all three scoring on beautifully executed "T" Formation plays. Chandler also added the two extra points.

This victory brought to a close the football season of 1947 for Edmunds High, in a grand style. Despite their losses and their mistakes, which were few, the Gamecocks had a hard fighting and clean team and two of the finest coaches anywhere. They placed Jack Chandler in the Shrine Game at Charlotte, N. C.

CAPTAIN CHANDLER

Known and feared throughout the state for his superior play on the basketball court was Jack Chandler, captain of the Sumter Gamecocks during the past season.

He led the '47-'48 cagers to the highest peak this year, the winning of the South Carolina Class AA Basketball Tournament, and was always one of the top scorers himself.

At the end of the season, Jack was placed on the All-State Team for the third consecutive year.

GAMECOCKS WIN STATE CLASS AA BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

The Sumter High School Basketeers concluded their 1947-48 basketball season by winning 13 out of 14 games in interscholastic competition.

This season was the best season the Gamecocks have had in several years, with Captain Jack Chandler, Bill Baldwin, Richard Dwight, Kirby Jackson, and Laddie Owens making up a hard-fighting and winning team. Much credit should be given to the Birds' second string, who saw much action and backed up the first stringers throughout the season. (The season's scores follow the detailed account of the tournament games.)

At the end of the regular season came the South Carolina Class AA Invitational Basketball Tournament.

In the opening game, on February 25, the Camden Bulldogs pulled a big upset by defeating the much-favored Dreher Blue Devils 31 to 28.

In the second game of the afternoon, Bishop England took an easy victory over the Conway Green Waves, 43 to 16.

The first game Thursday night saw Spartanburg take an easy win over the Yellow Jackets of Florence, 43 to 21.

Sumter and Greenwood ended the first round of the tournament with Sumter on top, 35 to 26. It was a close game until the last quarter, when the Gamecocks went ahead with the point-making of Jack Chandler and Kirby Jackson.

In the first game Friday night, Camden was downed by a hard-fighting Bishop England five.

The Gamecocks ran over the Spartanburg Red Birds in the semi-finals Friday night by the score of 44 to 25. Sumter sharpshooters were Chandler and Owens.

Spartanburg won a close contest over Camden Saturday night to take the consolation, 39 to 29.

In the final game of the tournament Saturday night, between Sumter and Bishop England, Sumter played their best game of the year and emerged victorious. This game was a thriller and had the spectators on the edge of their seats from beginning to end. The Gamecocks took an early lead, but the Bishops came up to tie the score 9 all at the end of the first quarter.

The first half ended with the scoreboard reading 20 to 17 in favor of the Bishops. However, the Gamecocks came back fighting, and with Baldwin, Broadwell, and Dwight feeding them the ball, Chandler, Jackson, and Owens steadily swished the meshes to ring up the close score of 32 to 28.

Four of Sumter's players made the All-Tournament team. Kirby Jackson, Jack Chandler, and Laddie Owens made places on the first team, and Bill Baldwin placed on the second. Johnny LaTorre and Billy McPherson made up the rest of the first team.

SEEN IN THE DREHER GAME

Jackson (No. 3) sinks one for two points in a thrilling game with the Dreher Blue Devils, which resulted in a 34-29 victory for the Sumter Gamecocks. Other Sumter players coming in for the rebound are Bill Baldwin (No. 5) and Jack Chandler (partially hidden).

This marked the first year that the Gamecocks had emerged the champions since the Tournament began in 1944. They advanced to the finals twice but lost to Charleston in 1944 and to Greenville in 1947.

After the game, the Galloway and Moseley Championship Trophy was presented to Captain Jack Chandler, who received it in behalf of his team. Individual awards went to Kirby Jackson of Sumter, best offensive player; Sid Sellars of Bishop England, best free throw artist; and Billy McPherson of Bishop England, best defensive player and player showing the most sportsmanship during the tournament. Gold basketballs were given to the champions and silver ones to the runners-up. Thus ended the very successful 1947-1948 basketball season, with the Gamecocks coming through in gala style.

Basketball ranked at the top among this year's sports for girls. An enthusiastic crowd of seniors came out for it, and, as in the other competitive sports, they won the season's championship, the final score being 23 to 11 in their favor, over the freshmen.

Basketball in Winter

SPRING SPORTS

Spring sports this year included tennis, badminton, softball, and archery for the outdoors on fine days, and ping-pong and basketball for indoor recreation in bad weather. The girls met two afternoons a week for practice. A chairman and team captains were chosen for each sport. Only those who attended the required number of practices, according to the G. A. A. rules, would be eligible for the intramural tournament, which had not been played when this write-up went to press. It promised to be good, however, judging by the interest and enthusiasm of the many girls from all of the classes that simply swarmed out for spring sports.

TENNIS

BADMINTON

PING-PONG

On the Parade Grounds

Three hours a week, during activity period, the boys of Edmunds High participate in military drill. This year drill was under the supervision of Mr. Larry Coker, a former major in the United States Army.

The purpose of this military drill is to give the boys a general idea of what military training is like and to teach them the fundamentals of close order drill. It also teaches leadership and discipline.

This year the boys were divided by classes into four companies. All officers for the organization came from the senior class, the high non-commissioned officers from the junior class, and squad leaders and guides from the sophomore class. Freshmen were privates.

CHARACTER AND SPORTSMANSHIP

HI-Y CLUB

SENIOR MEMBERS

Presiding. Tony Bowman, President.

Of the many clubs and other organizations of Edmunds High School the Hi-Y is significant in its being the only out-and-out Christian organization for high school boys. Membership is confined to juniors and seniors. The objective of the club is to "create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

During the summer, club members operated a concession three nights a week, at softball games, to raise money, a part of which went to the World Youth Fund for the rebuilding of Y. M. C. A. facilities.

Delegates from this club were sent to the State Hi-Y Older Boys' Conference, and a representative from Sumter attended the National Conference that was held in Grenell, Iowa, last June.

BLOCK "S"

SENIOR MEMBERS

The Block "S" is more or less a social organization of the "S" wearers of the school. Since most of the members wished to join the dramatics club for the regular club period, the group decided to hold all "S" meetings in the evening, with a banquet at the end of each major sport season. The chief objective of the club is good sportsmanship.

PRODUCTION AND HOMEMAKING

F. F. A.

The Future Farmers of America is the national organization of, by, and for farm boys studying vocational agriculture in public secondary schools. High school departments of vocational agriculture provide three-year courses of systematic instruction in agriculture and farm mechanics. Instruction is followed up throughout the year by supervision of the farming projects of students on their home farms. The average age of F. F. A. members is seventeen years. The objectives of the club are to improve agriculture and to develop agricultural cooperation and leadership.

BOYS' 4-H

Front row, left to right: Junior Southall, Burgess Hair, Reginald Goodman (presiding). Second row: Roy Chandler, Billy Stafford, Charles Marshall, Leonard Prescott. Third row: Alvin Burns, Wayne Johnson, Russel Hatfield. Fourth row: L. E. Scott, J. D. Hodge, Tommy Thames. Fifth row: Maurice Martin, Bobby Mitchell, Wilfred Lowder, Billy Mitchell, Charles Galloway, Clifton Johnson, DeWitt Geddings, Dreyfus Brunson, Charles Parker, Bobby Stafford, Claude Pritchard, James Kolb, Lester McDaniels, Woodrow Brown. Back row: Mr. Alston (Sponsor), Bobby Batten, Jackie Mooneyhan, Melvin Brown, McBride Dabbs, Amos Baker, Dean Geddings, Clinton Ford.

This was another group of young farmers, whose practical work was on the production line of cattle, hogs, and various crops, such as corn, peanuts, and potatoes.

J. H. A.

SENIOR MEMBERS

The girls in this picture have just completed a unit in flower arrangement. They are, left to right: Doris June, Eleanor Poulos, Dot Fowler.

The Junior Homemakers Association had a membership of sixty girls in Edmunds High School this year. To be eligible for membership, one must have at least one year of home economics. The club had monthly meetings, in which programs pertaining to home economics were presented. These programs were designed to teach, in an impressive way, such units as cooking, sewing, interior decoration, upholstering, and planning and serving meals.

GIRLS' 4-H

SENIOR MEMBERS

This picture shows girls taking the 4-H pledge. They are, left to right: Carol Chandler (administering the pledge), Betty Pritchard, Anna Lee Campbell, Carolyn Holladay, Ruth Mixon.

The Girls' 4-H club of Edmunds High had a large membership coming from the four classes of the school. These girls worked together on interesting projects pertaining to homemaking, such as gardening, chicken and egg production, buying, budgeting, preserving, and conserving. Miss Alice Jordan, the county home demonstration agent, led the girls in their work this year.

FINE ARTS AND GENERAL CULTURE

ARTS AND CRAFTS

EXHIBIT

This picture shows a part of the Education Week art exhibit. Students in the picture, left to right: Carl Goodwin, Allene Bland, Billy Upshur, Mildred Craft.

Posters, large and small, for all occasions, County Fair booth and Education Week exhibits of house plans and models, basketry, drawing, painting, stage settings, decorating for banquets and receptions, all of these and many more showed the fine hand of the art department of Edmunds High School.

LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club was organized this year in Edmunds High. The purposes of the club are to stimulate a greater interest among the students in libraries and library service, to stimulate reading interests, and to improve the library service of the school. During the past year the activities included training for library assistants. Mrs. Alva Pringle, the librarian, was sponsor for this promising young club.

J. Waters.

As a club for entertainment as well as for valuable art, the dramatics club easily takes first place in Edmunds High. The membership this year was around two hundred fifty.

Besides the plays presented at their regular club meetings, which were held twice a month, in the auditorium, these young players gave occasional productions for the entire school. The Girl from Brazil, for example, was presented at assembly on Pan-American Day. Once a year, too, a full-length, three-act play is given in the evening, to meet club expenses and to add to equipment. This year the evening play was a mystery, which drew an audience of about nine hundred people.

Production staffs for all of these performances receive as much valuable training, in their field, as the actors and actresses themselves.

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay"

THE SENIOR CLASS PLAY

Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough save up their money to take a trip to Europe. They are nineteen. On the ship they have an exciting adventure with a stowaway, mistake the leader of the ship's band for an admiral, and meet two handsome young medical students. As the ship is nearing port, Cornelia feels sick. The medical students diagnose the trouble—measles. It requires all of Cornelia's make-up skill to get by the inspection. In Paris, they sleep in a bed that Cardinal Richelieu once slept in, and they try to persuade a great French actor to give them acting lessons.

After a lovely summer, they leave Paris for home, with a twinge of sadness at the thought that it's all over and they will never be nineteen again.

A SCENE FROM THE PLAY

Emily Kimbrough dances and Cornelia Otis Skinner recites for Monsieur de la Croix.

PLAYING IN "OUR HEARTS WERE YOUNG AND GAY"

PUBLIC SPEAKING

TONY BOWMAN

The boys and girls in high school today have many opportunities to speak before audiences, large or small.

In Edmunds High School students are called upon to take part in panel discussions, to speak over public address, to appear on radio programs, and to take charge of assemblies. In a limited way, they participate in the affairs of the school through homeroom discussions and student council debate. At election time all candidates for school offices make campaign speeches.

This year Tony Bowman, Lad Boyle, and Jack Chandler entered the American Legion Oratorical Contest. They wrote and delivered speeches on the Constitution, which was an excellent experience for them. Jack won the school, district, and area contests.

The commencement speeches, on the future security of our freedoms, were also written by the students and delivered on graduation night to a packed house.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAMS

PLAYS

During Education Week this year an American History group presented at assembly a play, "Beachhead for Freedom," setting forth the hopes and ideals of the postwar world. "The Girl from Brazil," a dramatics club production, was given on Pan-American Day. This play emphasized the importance of good will toward our neighboring Americans.

MUSIC

The Thanksgiving and Christmas programs were the two religious programs of the year. Those were largely musical since music is most suitable for a sacred program. There were also a band concert and a concert by the mixed chorus, both of which came in the spring.

SPEAKERS

Cedric Foster, the noted news commentator, was one of our assembly speakers again this year. He emphasized the fact that our only security was of the brain, and that we must understand issues and act in unity to protect freedom and liberty. John J. Riley, U. S. Congressman, was another. He gave the students a better understanding of our national affairs, by answering questions and commenting on topics raised.

MISCELLANEOUS

Besides these, there were literary programs, such as the delightful library program pictured below, and programs showing the work of the various departments of the school, as well as a few of a lighter vein, all of them highly enjoyable.

THE TRAGEDY OF MACBETH

"Lo, you, here she comes! This is her very guise; and, upon my life, fast asleep. Observe her; stand close."

GIRLS' CHORUS AND BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Chorus is composed of more than sixty members, who are interested in singing good music.

This year the chorus took part in several assembly programs. The outstanding performance of the year was their Christmas Cantata, in which the nine boys who make up the Boys' Glee Club participated, creating the mixed chorus.

The boys in the Glee Club did splendid work this year. They were called upon to sing in church and elsewhere outside of school on a number of occasions.

Both clubs met three times a week for practice. Their program of music was broad. It included singing, study of music appreciation, and music theory.

THE BAND

The marching band of Edmunds High School played for all of the football games in Sumter and for many of the out-of-town games. It had the honor of leading all of the local parades, such as the Iris Festival, and Shaw Field Anniversaries. It accepted several out-of-town invitations, winning honorable mention in a parade of bands from all over the state.

The concert band, with thirty-six members, plays for all assembly programs and for all other entertainments pertaining to school activities, such as the Senior Play, the Junior-Senior, and the Spring Festival. This band gave during the school year two one-hour concerts at assembly, which were thoroughly enjoyed by both the school and a host of visitors.

PIANO

BETTY RAY EVANS, Piano

Betty Ray studied piano under the direction of Mrs. J. S. Buck. During her four years in high school, she played in a number of recitals, was called on to furnish music for local clubs on quite a few occasions, and took part in several musical radio programs. She was also one of the pianists at Trinity Methodist Church. Betty Ray plans to major in music—piano and pipe organ—at Limestone College.

The 1947-48 staff of the Sumter High News published, as was customary, fifteen issues of the paper. In order to finance the High News this year a campaign was launched at the beginning of school for 100% subscriptions in all homerooms. At both assembly and homeroom meetings the staff advertised their "wares" so successfully that every student in school paid for a year's subscription, and from that point on, the staff could breathe easy and just write copy. Miss Heery's homeroom was the first to subscribe 100%, and all members were given tickets to a picture show as a reward.

Miss Susie Osteen, literary adviser, and Shirley Green, page editor, attended the South Carolina Scholastic Press Association held in Greenville on April 22 and 23. They came back full of inspiration and new ideas and talk of "a good time had by all."

Sumter High News is a member of the National Scholastic Press Association as well as the S. C. S. P. A. The staff has high hopes that they may be able to attend the national convention another year.

HI-WAYS 1948

Each year the senior class of Edmunds High School undertakes a project whose success depends upon the industry and cooperation of every member of the class. That project is the publishing of a senior classbook. This year, to raise money for the annual publication, every senior worked hard selling magazine subscriptions, selling tickets to the Barter Theater play "John Loves Mary," producing a senior play, and presenting the May Festival at which two seniors were crowned king and queen.

The work of selecting the cover, deciding on the theme, making the layouts, taking the pictures, writing copy, and reading proof was done by the staff, under the capable supervision of Miss Elizabeth Hepburn, faculty adviser.

Hi-WAYS is a member of both the National Scholastic Press Association, University of Minneapolis, Minneapolis, Minnesota, and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, Columbia University, New York City.
